

Living and Thriving in the Great Lakes and Other “Wet Lands”:

Lessons from the Past and Prospects for Our Future

Spring 2024 | AnthrArc 296: 101
Online! | MW 10-1 | 3 Credits

Explore Freshwater Archaeology!

Discover the myriad ways that humans lived and thrived among our most important and valuable resource –fresh water – through time and space.

Protecting Fresh Water Today and Tomorrow

Discuss the role archaeology plays in protecting and managing “wet lands,” here in the Great Lakes and worldwide.

Fulfill Requirements!

Fulfills Social Science distribution

Counts toward Anthropology Major & Minor

Sacred Words:

The Anthropology of Language and Christianity

ANTHRCUL 299-101

Spring 2024, T-Th, 10-1

Instructor: Anne Marie
Creighton

What do Christian linguistic practices reveal about Christianity?

How can language create healing, or construct global systems of oppression?

What is 'time', and can it
end?

3 credits, no pre-requisites, fulfills
LSA social science (SS) distribution, counts towards Anthropology major/minor