

GREEK (MODERN) LANGUAGE & CULTURE

Minor Checklist

This Minor is designed to provide a basic, but contextual and broad, familiarity with Modern Greek language, literature, and culture. More specifically, it requires students to study, at the intermediate and advanced levels, Greek and its authors but at the same time it acquaints them with the broader historical, social, and cultural context in which they lived and worked.

Prerequisites:

[] GREEKMOD 201 or equivalent as determined by placement exam.

Requirements:

At least 16 credits to be chosen from each of the following three categories as stated:

(1) Modern Greek Language and Literature: At least two courses in Modern Greek language and literature above GREEKMOD 201.

[] _____ Term: _____ Credits: _____

[] _____ Term: _____ Credits: _____

(2) Modern Greek culture: A broad introductory course in Modern Greek culture (GREEKMOD 302 can be used for this requirement if not used for the language requirement)

[] _____ Term: _____ Credits: _____

(3) Upper-level courses: At least two upper-level courses investigating more specific cultural issues in Modern Greece, such as the Diaspora, travel, Athens, Myth and Cinema, or other topics [e.g., GM 318 (Greek American Culture); GM 325 (Athens: Past & Present); GM 340 (Travels to Greece); GM 350 (Special Topics).

[] _____ Term: _____ Credits: _____

[] _____ Term: _____ Credits: _____

Total Credits: _____

Any appropriate course taught in the area of Modern Greek Studies in departments other than Classical Studies must be approved by the program advisor and the Chair in Modern Greek.

University of Michigan • Department of Classical Studies
2160 Angell Hall

For further questions, please contact the Department of Classical Studies at classics@umich.edu