MAJOR RESEARCH IN PROGRESS

Hawaiian Songs Ancient and Modern. Scholarly edition of musical scores containing representative repertory from pre-European and westernized traditions. This volume will be published in the series Music in the United States of America, coordinated by the American Musicological Society. The framing essay, titled "Representing Hawaiian Music," provides exhaustive contextualization of Hawaiian repertory and discussion of the range of sources available.

Singing the Past, Dancing the Future: A History of Modern Hula. Book manuscript documenting the origins and development of modern Hawaiian hula and hula music (including poetry) since the late monarchy era. Combines archival research at Bishop Museum and library research at University of Hawai'i, especially in Hawaiian-language newspapers, with oral history interviews. Sections of six out of seven projected chapters exist in rough draft. The University of Illinois Press has expressed interest in this volume for their series "Music in American Life."
