

ACADEMIC SHARING GRANT FOR NON-UM SCHOLARS AND EDUCATORS

CSEAS offers the grant to support curriculum development related to Southeast Asia. Community college instructional faculty lacking significant Southeast Asian resources within their home institutions are encouraged to apply.

AWARD DETAILS

- ▶ Visit for up to three days at the University of Michigan
- ▶ Consult with area expert faculty if they are available during visit
- ▶ Full access to U-M library, museum, and archival resources, including
 - University of Michigan Library, one of the best collections of Southeast Asian materials in translation
 - Bentley Historical Library's large collection of U.S.-Philippine materials
 - Ford Presidential Library with its Vietnam war archives
 - Museum of Anthropological Archeology with its Asian Ethnology Collections and Dean C. Worcester Photographic Collection from the Philippines
 - History of Art Southeast Asian Art Foundation Archive
 - University of Michigan Museum of Art Buddhist and Hindu Collection from Thailand, Cambodia, My-anmar, and Indonesia
- ▶ Expenses—A maximum of three days lodging and food reimbursement (up to federal levels); travel reimbursement (at the federal rate); reproduction costs (up to $30)

REQUIREMENTS

Grant report, to be submitted one month after completing your visit, which details the integration of Southeast Asian content (at least 25%) into courses taught, or new courses developed, along with a brief description of materials collected.

TO APPLY

- ▶ Complete the online application form, visit: ii.umich.edu/cseas/non-um-scholars-and-educators
- ▶ Send a research proposal: 1-page maximum; should include teaching material sought, curriculum goals, and focus of new course/additional section of existing course. For those seeking to include Southeast Asia content in an existing course, please show how the Southeast Asia content will reach 25% of the total course content
- ▶ Submit a budget: use federal per diem rates for the Ann Arbor area and the federal mileage reimbursement rate, if driving

For additional questions about the application process and other inquiries, please contact:

The Center for Southeast Asian Studies
cseas@umich.edu
734.764.0352