English Language Support
for International Scholars, Researchers, Faculty, Staff, and Post-Docs

Overview
The ELI offers courses designed to provide International Scholars, Researchers, Staff and Post-Docs the English language support they need to maximize their professional contributions during their stay at the University of Michigan. These courses focus on written communication and speaking in both formal and informal academic settings. Extensive individualized feedback enables participants to improve their accuracy, fluency, and delivery style and to increase their confidence using English in both professional and social settings.

Course offering for Spring 2018
