

MLive:

Environmental Intern

Come work with environmental reporters at MLive Media Group, the #1 news and information site in Michigan. Mickey Ciokajlo, Regional News Manager, will supervise the intern selected for this position, who will be responsible for News reporting on issues related to the Great Lakes . The intern can work out of either the Ann Arbor or Kalamazoo office. An Ann Arbor-based intern will work with award-winning editor and writer Paula Gardner, a U-M grad and veteran reporter who writes about a range of Michigan issues. A Kalamazoo-based intern will work with journalist Garret Ellison, who has specialized in reporting on PFAS and their impact on Michigan residents. He broke the story of Nestle's request to pump more groundwater from Michigan for bottling, for which he was awarded the Public Notice Resource Center's Public Notice Journalism Award. The suggested internship period is May 18 - June 19.
