Our CG3 GEI internship afforded many valuable experiences that will carry over into our academic and career goals.

- We learned how to communicate effectively with organizations to modify and adjust expectations for project deliverables.
- We gained immense appreciation for self-advocating in terms of emotional, physical and mental capacity.
- We learned how to problem solve with strategic approaches to multi-faceted issues that included cultural considerations.

Testimonials:

“I enjoyed learning about migrant and refugee rights, including interfaith solutions to conflict.” - Agniva

“It was interesting to learn about people’s communication styles and learn how we as a group can approach difficult situations.” - Alyssa

“I learned how to apply my dialogue skills in group settings to strive toward a common goal.” - Evan

GEI HAF Outcomes

- Literature Review
  - We overviewed >50 primary and secondary resources, concerning the Midelt Christian and Moroccan Jewish populations.
  - We discovered a renewed emphasis of a lack of research and primary source information regarding Midelt Christian populations in Morocco.
  - The historical connotations of Jewish communities in Morocco include social stigma, impacts after WWII, and failed attempts at achieving religious harmony.
- Interview Questions
  - We devised interview questions for people involved in the Catholic Church in Morocco to assess current barriers in cross cultural work.
- Wrote Outlines for Article
  - We worked diligently to find information relating to immigrant populations in order to better inform HAF on practices and outreach for immigrant populations in Morocco.
- Outline NGO organization in Morocco to support immigrant populations
  - We researched NGOs in Morocco to outline contact information and addresses, creating a list for HAF to distribute.

CONCLUSION

We would like to extend a huge thank you to Dr. Yossef Ben-Meir, Katie Bercegeay, Brittani McLeod. Additionally, we would like to thank Clary Baudraz for her significant contributions to the GEI Internship Program in GSP. Thank you to the GSP Staff.
