Current PhD students interested in applying for the LSA PhD Need-Based Technology Grant must complete online application form through the InfoReady Review application system.

Accessing the Application: The application form can be accessed online either directly through the InfoReady Review application system or via the link on the LSA Graduate Education website. Students will be required to login to the application system using their uniqname and password.

On the InfoReady Review page, students will select the DEAN'S OFFICE from the drop-down menu. Once they do so, they will be directed to the "Applications and Nominations" page where they can access the application.
