Improve IT.

Let LSA IT help you discover hardware options to meet your research needs.

When Communication Studies Professor, Christian Sandvig, needed a high-end gaming machine for his research in video game and technology culture, he called on LSA IT to help. We listened to his requirements, researched options, and provided a recommendation. In this case, a standard build computer would not suffice so when Professor Sandvig was ready to make a purchase, we facilitated the special order process. Even if your needs aren’t this unique, we can help! In FY15 alone, LSA IT completed over $1.2 million in computer upgrades to keep you in touch with current technology.

From standard computing to unique hardware for research, let LSA IT help you get the right tool for your work.
