

Minor in Middle East Studies (16 credits)

The minor in Middle East Studies provides students with the opportunity of gaining fundamental knowledge of Middle East civilizations, through courses focused on either an area (e.g. Arabic Studies, Armenian Studies, Biblical Studies, Egyptology, Hebrew and Judaic Studies, Iranian Studies, Islamic Studies, Mesopotamian Studies, or Turkish Studies) or a discipline (e.g. Middle East literature, visual culture, history, religion, etc.) taught within the Department of Middle East Studies. Students have the option of using intermediate-level and above language courses towards program requirements.

Prerequisite

MIDEAST 200: Introduction to the Middle East (4) Term: _____

Minor Requirements

MIDDLE EAST STUDIES (MIDEAST) COURSEWORK. At least three courses offered through the Department of Middle East Studies focused on either an area or discipline.

_____ (____) Term: _____

_____ (____) Term: _____

_____ (____) Term: _____

ADDITIONAL COURSES TO FULFILL THE 16-CREDITS FOR THE MINOR. Students may choose to complete this portion of the minor through either additional Middle East studies coursework and/or with up to two terms of Middle East language courses. If using language coursework, modern languages must be at the fourth semester or above while ancient languages must be at the second semester or above.

_____ (____) Term: _____

_____ (____) Term: _____

_____ (____) Term: _____

At least 12-credits taken at UM-Ann Arbor At least a 2.0 GPA in all coursework

At least two MIDEAST courses at the 300-level or above At least 16-credits total