

Department of Political Science Political Internship Program (Spring/Summer 2024 - PS399)

University of Michigan Political Science Department invites Junior and Senior Political Science Students to gain course credit for Internships with Michigan state legislators, Members of Congress, and other elected officials, federal and local courts, non-profit organizations, legal professionals, the media, and more.

3-credit Political Science course

- Requires a minimum of 160 hours total working in your placement office over the summer months
 - Students must line up their own internships, but are provided with one-on-one guidance in finding placement opportunities
 - Course work entails weekly online class discussion entries and three personal interviews/papers

What do I get out of the Political Internship Program?

- Preview of careers in the political, legal, and non-profit world
 - Visible, unique work experience for your resume
 - Letters of recommendation for law/graduate school applications or future job opportunities
 - Networking and leadership training experience

Acceptance into Internship Program is based on application and personal interview. Interviews will be scheduled starting immediately and run through the start of spring term.
