

Statement on a Professional Workplace Environment May 21, 2020

The Department of Political Science is committed to maintaining a professional and welcoming environment for people of every background, regardless of race, ethnicity, creed, sexual orientation, religion, class, and ideological perspective. The Department also actively supports academic freedom and open intellectual discourse. The primary means to pursue these goals while also sustaining a climate of mutual respect and consideration is for all individuals to use common sense, courtesy, and respect for others as their guide in interactions with any member of our community.