Introductory Remarks

The purpose of the Teaching Internship is to give qualified students the opportunity for contact with a subject matter from the standpoint of the instructor as well as the student, and to gain insight into the varied facets of teaching. A Teaching Intern does not conduct a class independently, but works closely with the instructor who is responsible for teaching the class.

ALL TEACHING INTERNSHIP PROPOSALS MUST BE APPROVED BY THE RC’S EDUCATIONAL POLICIES AND CURRICULUM COMMITTEE.

Eligibility

1. RC Seniors (and in special cases RC Juniors) are eligible to apply for a Teaching Internship.

2. Teaching Interns must have completed at least one class or have had other significant contact with the supervising instructor.

3. Teaching Interns must be in good academic standing.

Procedure

1. Every Teaching Internship must receive the approval of the RC faculty member in charge of the course and of the Residential College’s Educational Policies and Curriculum Committee. Supervising instructors must be regular members of the Residential College faculty.

2. Teaching interns register for RC Core 307 under the supervising instructor's individual Faculty Independent Study Number. Before registering for Core 307, a student must submit the Teaching Internship Proposal Form to the prospective supervising faculty member. If the faculty member agrees to accept the student as a TI, the student and faculty member together compose a complete description of internship duties and activities. The description of activities and time commitment, the student’s application, and the signed Proposal Form are forwarded to the RC’s Educational Policies and Curriculum Committee for final approval. Students may register for Core 307 after EPCC approval. Any projects or final products (such as reports or journals) the instructor assigns which are directly related to the student’s Teaching Internship experience should be described as well.

3. Teaching Internships may be proposed for 1-4 credits.

2. At the end of the term the TI will submit a brief report of the internship experience to the Educational Policies and Curriculum Committee. The report will be kept on file in the RC Advising Office.

Please note: This is a selective process. As in the case of Independent or Field Studies, faculty members will accept an intern entirely at their own discretion, and final approval by the Educational Policies and Curriculum Committee is required.
